Drifting Snow Keeps Nine Schools Closed

MERCURY FALLS TO TWO-DEGREE MARK IN NIGHT

Four County Roads Covered Despite Efforts Of Highway Crews

TRAIL TRAFFIC BLOCKED $100 Put Into Emergency Fund For Department Of Service

Falling temperatures and continued winds, Thursday, kept State Highway Department trucks and snow plows battling to keep roads opened and trying to open those that had been closed Wednesday. Drifts were still being piled up over the highways by the wind after the department trucks had them cleared. Ice formations glazed the highways as the temperature fell to two degrees above zero Wednesday night.

Four county roads remained closed Thursday as the windswept snow was six feet deep making it impossible for cars to get through. Routes 138, 316, 159 and 674 were closed entirely.

Concentrating their efforts on the main arteries to keep as much traffic as possible moving, the Highway Department reported that Routes 23, 22, 56 and 104 were in good condition and free from snow although they were ice covered and slippery. Heavy trucking moved through Circleville throughout Wednesday night, but speeds were reduced to a minimum.

South Bears Brunt
Roads in Fairfield and Ross Counties were hit hard as a reported 12 to 14 inch snowfall covered them. Counties south of Pickaway were reported buried under huge drifts while to the north the snows were much lighter.

Many county schools are remaining closed Thursday as traveling over the ice covered roads was considered too hazardous for the pupils. Huge snowdrifts piled high on the county roads have made it impossible for school buses to get through to the pupils. Classes were not held in Pickaway, Salter Creek, Washington, Walnut, Scioto, Monroe, Wayne, Deercreek and Madison Townships, George D. McDowell, county superintendent of schools, reported.

Truck Blocks Route 23
Traffic on Route 23 was blocked for two hours Wednesday afternoon when a truck stalled on a hill near the Emmitt's Chapel, Pickaway Township. Cars were lined up in both directions for more than a mile each way until the truck was removed. Highway (Continued on Page Five)

FUND FOR SCHOOL BAND SUITS GOES ABOVE $700 MARK

Contributions To Date Filed By Committee Directing Campaign; Penny Day, Tag Event And Basketball Game To Be Conducted In Drive For 50 New Uniforms

The committee in charge of the campaign being conducted to purchase 50 new uniforms for the High School band announces that it has received $722.20 for the equipment. The committee met Wednesday evening in the High School library. It will meet again Tuesday, February 20, at 7 p. m. to check progress made in the campaign.

The committee is soliciting citizens and organizations of Circleville in an effort to raise the money for uniforms, which cost $25 each.

It is not permitted by law for a board of education to make such purchases, thus the privately-conducted campaign for funds.

The following contributions were listed Thursday: American Legion auxiliary, $100; Business and Professional Women's Club, $50; band concerts, Cliftona Theatre, $72.20; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Weldon, $25; The Pumpkin Show Society, $150; Kiwanis Club, $25; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thornton, $25; Richard Simkins, $5; the Cliftona Theatre, $5; Mrs. C. G. Shulze, $25; the Rotary Club, $50; Mrs. N. G. Spangler, $5; Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Lake, $10; William Burget, $10; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Barnhart, $25; O. S. Howard, $10; Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Hitler, $5; the Stodge Club dinner, $65; the Wallace Bakery, $25; Girl Reserves' dance, $8; Fred C. Clark, $12.50; Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Rowland, $12.50; the Circle Press, $2.

The names of other contributors will be published from time to time. Donors are asked to give their funds to Robert G. Colville, who is acting as treasurer of the committee.

A penny day for pupils of the schools is being set for Tuesday, February 20. Superintendent Frank Fischer, who is a member of the committee, said that if each pupil should give five pennies that enough money would be collected to buy three uniforms. "Some pupils of course cannot give this much," he said, "but others can afford to give more."

Another function being attempted for the fund will be a Tag Day to be conducted Saturday, February 24. The Senior Girl Reserves will cover the four corners of Court and Main Streets on this date from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. tagging passersby. Contributions large or small will be welcomed.

A benefit basketball card will be conducted next Tuesday evening in the Circleville Athletic Club gymnasium with the High School varsity playing the alumni and the Circleville Athletic Club playing an out-of-town opponent as yet unnamed. The C.A.C. game will be a preliminary starting at 8 o'clock and the High School-Alumni joust will be a feature to get under way at 9. All proceeds of the evening will be given to the band uniform fund.

John Heskell and Warren Bumgarner, captain of last year's team, are lining up an alumni aggregation that is expected to test the varsity.

F. D. R.'S SILENCE HAS OFFICIALS LITTLE FLUTTERY
Aboard Presidential Special En Route to Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 15—President Roosevelt headed for a "fishing cruise" in southern waters today that had political leaders guessing, both in the United States and Europe.

Last-minute secrecy concerning the port of embarkation was lifted when White House aides aboard the special train conceded that Mr. Roosevelt would board the 10,000-ton navy cruiser Tuscaloosa at Pensacola, Fla., sometime today. What course will be charted into, or through, the Gulf of Mexico remained a mystery that may well hold until the cruise is completed.

Domestically, politicians of both major political parties pondered full import of Mr. Roosevelt's swing out to sea at a time his name was being pushed in Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and New Hampshire for a third term. Foreign observers wondered whether the presidential flotilla might take off from Pensacola ultimately to join the Atlantic squadron that has been maneuvering near the Dutch West Indies or to American-owned islands of that group where the marine corps has been engaging in battle practice.

COUNTY CAGE TOURNEY GETS UNDER WAY AT 7

Declaring that rumors being circulated that the county basketball tournament might be postponed because of bad roads were untrue, George D. McDowell, superintendent of schools, said Thursday that all contests would be played as scheduled. The first game will start at 7 o'clock this evening in the Atlanta gymnasium.

DIES TO TRAIN HIS COMMITTEE ON FILM COLONY

Texas Prober In Capital For First Time Since He Became Ill

CHAIRMAN ADMITS PLOT

Hollywood Is Communistic, Declares Un-American Inquiry Leader

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Chairman Martin Dies of the house un-American activities investigating committee, returned to Washington today after four months absence and immediately proposed early investigation of alleged Communist movements in the Hollywood movie colony.

He disclosed that alleged Communist workings in consumers organizations throughout the country also will be investigated by the committee.

Dies, who has been ill in Texas, said that he had virtually recovered, and that he plans to have his committee redouble its investigative efforts.

The recent episode in congress, in which it was admitted that forged documents were used in an attack on Dies, is only part of a well-defined plot to discredit the committee, the chairman charged.

He assailed the administration of Gov. Culbert Olson of California for subpoenaing witnesses lined up by Dies committee investigators in preparation for its inquiry into Communist activities in Hollywood, in order to "whitewash those involved."

He said his committee sent investigators to California eight months ago. They lined up and subpoenaed numerous witnesses, and prepared a report on Communist and Nazi movements on the basis of evidence they discovered.

Hollywood Has Copy
"I am informed," said Dies, "that Hollywood has a copy of that report and that every witness of ours has been subpoenaed by a California legislative investigating committee."

CUTTER REACHES DISABLED SHIP OFF SANDY HOOK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—The cutter Ponchartrain has reached the side of the disabled, 3,262-ton oil tanker, Aztec, 50 miles south-east of Sandy Hook, N. J., and is standing by to tow the Aztec to the nearest port, coast guard headquarters announced today.

The cutter radioed coast guard headquarters that the Aztec reached the helpless vessel at 5:44 a. m., and found a heavy gale blowing and rough seas running.

The captain of the Aztec reported earlier his rudder was loose and said if the rudder tore loose, the sea would flood into the engine room.

Coast guard officials said they were sure the disabled ship was an American craft, inasmuch as it used a U. S. radio call. They said vessels of the Aztec's size usually carried a crew of from 25 to 30 men.

EXETER REACHES HOME PORT AMID CHEERING

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Feb. 15—Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, and Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, joined cheering crowds at Plymouth today to greet the battle-scarred British cruiser Exeter when she arrived here after a voyage across the Atlantic.

The Exeter was one of three British cruisers, which participated in the battle against the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee off the Brazilian coast.

Ice Piled Up For 12 Miles Along Allegheny

FLOOD fears abated along the Allegheny River near Parkers Landing, 60 miles from Pittsburgh, when another cold wave halted the break-up of an ice gorge which stretches for 12 miles. Parkers Landing did experience a short-lived flood. The highway along the river is blocked by ice.

Four Persons Drown As Physician Ignores Coast Guard Warning

SANDUSKY, Feb. 15—With the bodies of Dr. George J. Edam, 33, of Put-In-Bay, and his wife, Loretta, 29, already recovered, efforts were made today to release the bodies of their two children, George, Jr., 3, and Barbara, 2, from the Edam automobile, which plunged through the Lake Erie "ice bridge" late yesterday.

The tragedy took place a short distance off Colby's Point on South Bass Island, about 15 miles across the lake from Sandusky.

Eyewitnesses said that the automobile in which Dr. Edam had been making his rounds on the Erie Islands, suddenly plunged through the ice, apparently striking a hole.

Only Tuesday coast guardsmen at Marblehead had warned that the ice bridge was no longer safe for automobile traffic. Regular highways had been staked out on the ice between Sandusky and the islands, and automobile traffic had been heavy for weeks.

Capt. Lee Miller, Put-In-Bay harbor master, said that efforts to drag the car from the water were unsuccessful. The bodies of the children, he said, apparently were still in the car.

The lake is about 30 feet deep at the point where the car plunged through the ice.

Ten years ago a physician and a nurse were drowned in a similar accident as they sought to drive over the ice to Middle Bass Island.

RED DISCONTENT GROWING, AVERS SWEDISH SOURCE

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 15—Discontent is growing in Russia over the huge Soviet losses in Finland and the Red army's failure to batter down the Finnish resistance, according to reports filtering through to Sweden, the newspaper Aftonbladet reported today.

The paper said it was believed that unless the Soviets produce some striking success quickly, Dictator Josef Stalin may "sacrifice" Premier-Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov and War Commissar Klement Voroshilov.

"Molotov and Voroshilov," said Aftonbladet, "are believed to be approaching the danger zone of purges."

The same newspaper published a report from Tallinn, Estonia, stating that the Soviet commanders are striving at all costs to achieve a victory over Finland before February 23, the 22nd anniversary of the founding of the Red army.

BOYS MISTAKE SIGN; THREE DIE

Waving Of Father Thought To Be Greeting; Train Kills Youths

TRINIDAD, Colo., Feb. 15—Three school boys were dead today, killed instantly when the frantic arm waving of the father of the third lad, meant for a warning, was mistaken for a greeting.

While the boys were waving back, the Santa Fe's eastbound streamliner, Chief, struck their light coupe at a grade crossing at Thatcher, tossed their bodies along the right-of-way and threw the wrecked car 200 feet down the track.

The victims were William Talbott, 14; his brother, Robert, 11; and Bruce Smoot, 12.

I. C. Smoot, father of Bruce and the Santa Fe station agent, who had run toward the boys waving when they apparently failed to hear the whistle of the approaching train, said the boys were dead when he and other witnesses reached them.

BRITISH CHARGE TWO NAZI SUBS SENT TO BOTTOM

LONDON, Feb. 15—Two German U-boats which were linked to the sinkings of three British merchantmen have been destroyed, according to an admiralty announcement today.

One of the torpedoed British vessels was the 12,306-ton refrigerator ship Sultan Star, which was sunk 230 miles southwest of Land's End. One member of the crew was killed and 72 survivors were landed at a west coast port today.

The admiralty announced that after the Sultan Star went down, "the U-boat only survived its victim by half an hour."

The other British ships sunk were the tankers Gretafield, 10,191 tons, and the 8,501-ton British Triumph.

According to a Reuters dispatch from Oslo, the 2,095-ton Danish freighter Martin Goldschmidt was sunk off the northwest coast of Scotland with the reported loss of 15 crew members. Five survivors were rescued by a Norwegian vessel.

PLOT PROBE DECLINED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—A house resolution requesting the State Department to reveal facts involved in a plot to damage Boulder Dam has been turned down by Secretary Hull, it was revealed today.

DEFENDERS SAY REDS HAVE LONG DISTANCE TO GO

Helsinki Admits Losses In Mannerheim Area, But Voices Hopes

MORE SOLDIERS CALLED

Men Of 42 And 43 Years To Join Forces; Kallio In New Aid Appeal

HELSINKI, Feb. 15 — Bitter hand-to-hand trench warfare raged along the Mannerheim Line today and reports from the blood-stained battle zone said the Soviet offensive was flagging slightly.

The Finnish defenders on the Karelian Isthmus, fighting with their backs to the wall and knowing their defeat might mean the end of the war, struggled with almost religious fervor against the Red army legions.

In the close-quarter encounters the Finns once again resorted to their traditional dagger with deadly effect.

While Finnish authorities admitted the advance sections of the Mannerheim defenses had been denied by the Russian assault, the heaviest seen in Europe since the World War battles of the Somme and Ypres, they claimed the Red army still had far to go before reaching the Mannerheim Line proper.

Separating the Russians from the chief fortifications, they said, are ten miles of continuous block houses, tank traps and virtually impenetrable barbed wire barriers.

Attacks Weaker
Asserting the Russian attacks were becoming weaker, Finnish authorities claimed there was no danger of the Soviets breaking through the Mannerheim Line.

Even where the Red army troops have scored advances, they said, the intervening belt of territory is still more strongly defended.

Russian losses during the Karelian offensive were estimated at 50,000 killed.

Reports from the battle area north of Lake Ladoga said the position of the Finns there is "Good." Still further north, at Kuhmo, military advisers said, the Finns have now virtually encircled the Russian 45th division.

Soviet aircraft also was active. An unidentified Finnish icebreaker was bombed and several members of its crew were killed.

In addition, the Russian air force carried out several bombing raids on Viborg, Hamina and Lappeenranta.

The Finnish government called more troops to active service in a desperate effort to turn back the Russian offensive on the Isthmus. Men of 42 to 43 years of age were called to the colors to buttress the soldiers already at the front.

Advances Admitted

Russian advances denting the forward Mannerheim Line defenses were admitted in an official communique which said the Red army advances had been made in the bitterly contested Summa sector.

Observers in Helsinki, however, expressed belief that the Russians might run the danger of forming a salient in which they might be exposed.

KLAN'S IMPERIAL WIZARD TRIES TO SELL PROGRAM

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15—James A. Colescott, of Atlanta, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, was in Cincinnati today to conduct a series of conferences emphasizing the organization's pro-Americanism program.

Denying that the Klan was carrying on a campaign against Negroes, Jews or Catholics, Colescott said the organization was "concerned only with the problems of native-born white Protestant Gentiles."

"If other groups have problems," Colescott said, "it is up to them to settle them themselves." He indicated the Klan might take steps expressing disapproval of President Roosevelt's recent appointment of Myron C. Taylor as his personal representative at the Vatican.

HEER MAY JOIN CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR POST

Franklin County Democratic Chairman Seeks Backing Of Ohio Committee

MANY PROBLEMS EYED

Sawyer Indicates That He Likes Davey As Member Of Delegation

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15—Walter J. Heer, chairman of the Franklin County Democratic executive committee, is expected to announce his candidacy for the party's gubernatorial nomination if Democratic leaders agree on a "harmony" program at their conference Saturday, it was learned today.

While members of the Democratic state central and executive committees prepared for the important conference, an authoritative source disclosed that Heer was ready to "take the plunge" into the political pool once he had the assurance the party would stand united behind his candidate.

Meanwhile, Democrats awaited results of the "harmony" session, at which Democratic National Committeeman Charles Sawyer was expected to ask the party to take a definite stand in favor of a third term for President Roosevelt. The committee members also were to select delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention, pick a second-choice candidate, or "favorite son," for president, and decide the party's policy in the 1940 election.

Sawyer Favors Davey

That party leaders apparently were ready to forget past differences was indicated several days ago when Sawyer was reported to have said he favored selection of former Gov. Martin L. Davey as a delegate. The two split during the primary in 1938, when Sawyer defeated the governor for the Democratic nomination.

In addition to Heer, several other prominent Democrats are expected to announce their 1940 political plans during or after the conference.

Sawyer said recently only the conference prevented him from revealing his plans. He may decide to run again for governor, seek U. S. Sen. Vic Donahey's seat, or become the "favorite son" candidate pledged to turn over his delegation to Roosevelt if he sought a third term.

Davey may announce whether he will attempt to recapture the state house or run for senator.

Donahey probably will reveal whether he will ask the voters to return him to the senate or agree to become the "Ohio favorite son" candidate for the presidential nomination.

Donahey Considered
Some political leaders expressed the belief the two committees would "draft" Donahey as the Ohio presidential candidate. However, it was not certain he would accept the honor if the groups also endorsed Roosevelt for a third term.

This was indicated recently when Donahey declared he would not be a "stalking horse" for Roosevelt at the convention. The statement was in reply to an announcement made previously by Democratic State Chairman Arthur Limbach that the senator would act in that capacity and that Ohio's delegates would go to the convention pledged, in reality, to Roosevelt.

But everything hinges on the important meeting Saturday.

THEATRE/MUSIC ORIGINAL

All music heard on "Silver Theatre" is original, and written especially to fit the theme of the drama by Felix Mills, music director for the show. To do this Maestro Mills goes into a huddle with the producer of the program the Friday before each broadcast, and discusses the mood and tempo of each scene in the drama. By the time rehearsal is called, Mills has written special music for every transition. And frequently the composer-director finds it necessary to prepare new music while the actors are going through their parts, the reason being that their interpretation of lines often changes the mood and timing as originally conceived by the author. Asked if that wasn't a pretty tough assignment, Maestro Mills shook his head and replied: "No. I've been thinking in terms of music since I was three, and pounded a drum."

PROGRAM GARB CHANGED

Heretofore the cast of "Dr. Christian," headed by Jean Hersholt in the title role, supported by Rosemary DeCamp, as "Judy," his nurse, has broadcast in full evening dress. At a recent jam session of the cast before rehearsal Rosemary suggested that they change their costumes for regular hospital garb, with Mr. Hersholt wearing the white regulation surgeon's smock, and Rosemary a nurse's uniform. She felt that more realism could be projected into their roles if they dressed for the part, too.

SHIELDS ON PROGRAM

Former Fibber McGee and Molly tenor Jimmy Shields will handle the vocal chores on Mutual's new program "Comedy By—" scheduled for February 16. Idea behind the program is to uncover new comedy talent.

BRIEF RADIO NOTES

Noel Mills, ingenue heard regularly on The Court of Missing Heirs, is making three movie shorts with Lew Lehr this week in Manhattan.

Look for special lyrics to "Mascara's In The Cold, Cold Ground" when Lanny Ross warbles the oldie on Washington's birthday.

Good Will Director John J. Anthony will commute between Manhattan and points North, East, South and West when he starts his nationwide lecture tour this spring.

Edmund O'Brien featured on Betty and Bob will play the leading role of John Wilkes Booth in Walter Hackett's play, "The Most Tragical Brutus," on Saturday at 8:30 p. m., over the NBC-Blue net.

Hollywood experts are calling on Ezra Stone, star of radio's "Aldrich Family," the comedy find of the season. He made so much of an impression in his first picture, "At Good Old Slivash," that he's being considered to play the Harold Lloyd role in a remake of "Professor Beware."

If you have been married four years but are just celebrating a first anniversary, you may be the "leap year" guests of Kate Smith on her noon program February 29. She's looking for a couple like that now.

Betty Field, heard with Ezra Stone in "The Aldrich Family," will be guest star on the CBS "Pursuit of Happiness" program February 18.

On his trip eastward, Horace Heidt will audition bassos for his program to replace Bob McCoy who recently resigned.

Following his engagement at the Southland Ballroom in Boston, Teddy Powell will probably go into Roseland in New York for a brief stay so that he can be on the local scene for his phonograph record-making activity.

Senators Move To Aid Farmers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—The powerful senate farm bloc today moved on three fronts for additional financial aid to farmers.

Under consideration was the establishment of "agriculture" banks, a three-year guarantee of federal parity payments, and increased federal subsidies through increased appropriations.

Senator Smith (D) South Carolina, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, said he will press for legislation to establish an agriculture bank in each of the 48 states. He also said he will propose legislation for the three-year parity payment guarantee.

Senator Russell (D) Georgia, chairman of an appropriations subcommittee that will consider the $722,001,084 agriculture supply bill for 1941, announced after a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that he is prepared to reinstate approximately $67,000,000 cut from the bill by the house.

Asserting that commercial banks are afraid to make loans to farmers, and that the Farm Security Administration "does not go far enough," Smith said establishment of the 48 agriculture banks would be a long step toward agriculture stability.

"After 150 years of comparative serfdom for agriculture, the banks would do much to relieve the whole situation," Smith said. The banks would make long-term loans at low interest rates. They would be completely divorced from commercial loans activity, and would be devoted only to agriculture interests.

"Part of the payments earned on the farm goes toward financing the administration of the program in the county. Therefore, it is up to farmers themselves to see that they get the best administration for the money spent," the chairman said.

The AAA is a farmers' program and administered by farmers. Constructive criticism offered at these meetings will go far in perfecting this program he pointed out. The chairman reminded farmers that most of the changes made in the 1940 program came from suggestions by farmers themselves.

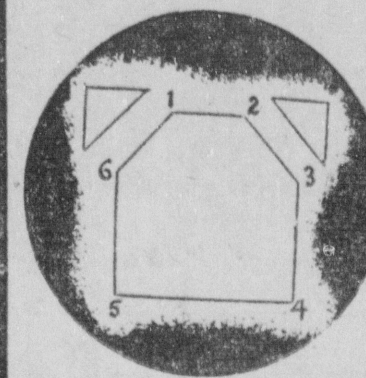

The next open meeting of the county committee is scheduled for March 4, in the Farm Bureau Home. The meeting will begin promptly at 2 p. m.

BLIZZARD HALTS MARYLAND HUNT FOR MURDERER

Eastern Shore Mob Goes Home After Storm Strikes Region

TWO WOMEN ARE SAFE

Posse Believes Suspect In Crime Trapped In Dismal Swamp

SNOW HILL, Md., Feb. 15 — Fifty-three state troopers, materially aided by a blizzard, restored peace to the eastern shore today as the storm forced postponement of the search for a suspected Negro murderer and drove violence-minded citizens to their fireplaces.

Two other Negroes, suspected of being accomplices of the fugitive in the killing Sunday night of Harvey Pilchard, 61-year-old Stockton farmer, and the wounding of his wife, Annie, 57, were in jail "across the bay" at Bel Air.

The Negro women, Martha Blake, 31, and her daughter, 14, whom an angry mob of 1,000 dragged from the Worcester County jail Tuesday night in an effort to learn the whereabouts of the suspected killers, also were in the Bel Air jail, after their rescue from the mob, which held them for several hours.

Storm Halts Search Posses believed to have the fugitive Negro trapped in dismal Dunn swamp near Snow Hill were forced to abandon their search by the fury of the storm.

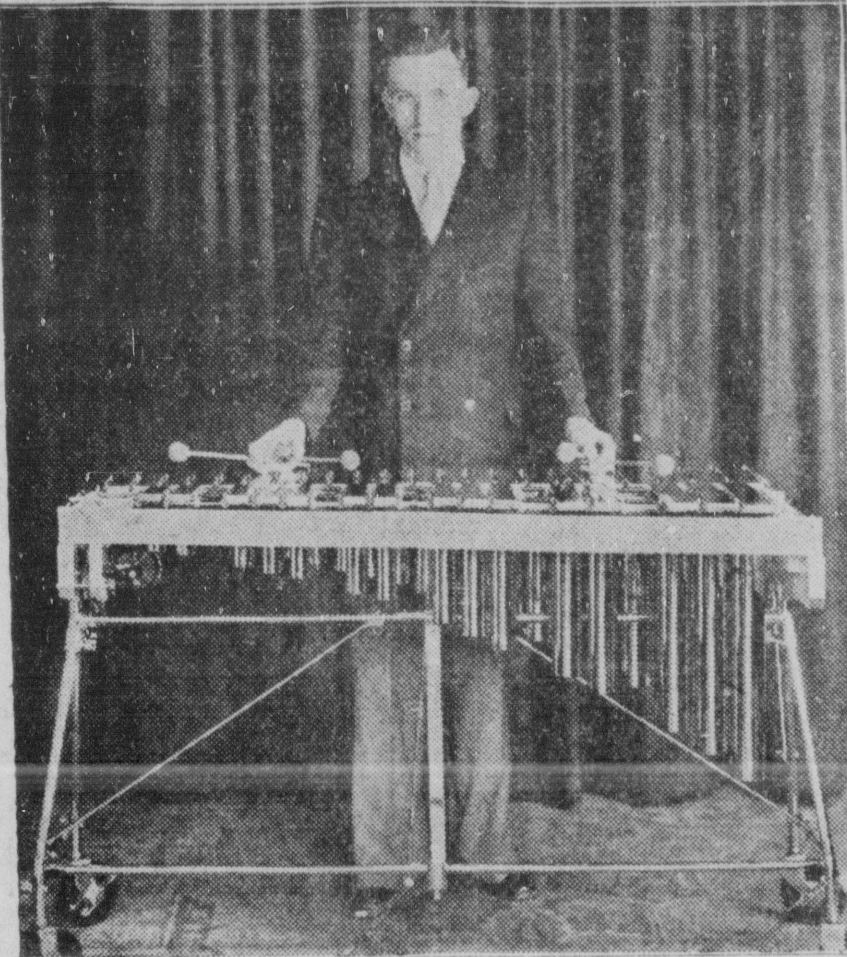

Around sizzling stoves in the shore's general stores, following funeral services for Pilchard, there was still considerable talk of lynching the farmer's slayer, but authorities believed the temper of the countryside would cool by the time the storm blows out.

Mrs. Pilchard, with a bullet wound in her chest, is in a serious condition in a Salisbury hospital.

Sheriff J. William Hall said he had identified about 40 men in the mob which stormed the Worcester jail and took the Blake women to Stockton, nine miles away. He said he is contemplating no action against the men, however.

STORM STRIKES, HITS BUSINESS IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Activity in the capital was hampered today by a most unusual happening for Washington—a blizzard.

Snow driven by a 45-mile gale all day yesterday stopped falling last night, but high winds persisted, causing drifts on all highways leading to the city and swamping hundreds of automobiles.

Capital streets were sheathed in ice, resulting in countless traffic accidents and numerous injuries as thousands of government workers drove—or attempted to drive—to work.

Schools and several government departments closed yesterday afternoon, with schools slated to remain closed, today unless the weather moderates.

In nearby Maryland, Capt. Ed Pruitt of Tangier Island, fell dead while attempting to moor his oyster boat during the gale.

Ohio Holds High Rank In 4-H Club Activity

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15—Ohio, in 1939, maintained its high ranking in 4-H club work by enrolling 59,238 rural and village boys and girls in 3,876 local clubs, an increase of 2,597 members from the 1938 figures, according to W. H. Palmer, state club leader, Ohio State University.

Girls outnumbered boys in Ohio 4-H clubs 37,602 to 21,636, and the girls had a little better record in started. Out of each 100 projects begun by both boys and girls, 82 were completed and reports of the work were made to club leaders or club advisors.

The model illustrated is the Buick Special, model 41 four-door touring sedan $990 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.*

AUTOMOBILE engineers talk a lot about car weight — and with good reason.

They know that riding qualities begin with enough road weight to hold you steady on your course—they know that weight is often another measure of size—above all, they know that weight means substance, strength, durability.

So it's interesting to note that this trim Buick SPECIAL gives you more weight per dollar than almost any other car you can buy.

With all its husky straight-eight power—power that's like velvet because engines are balanced after assembly—with all its room, and style, and comfort—this Buick still has one of the lowest costs-per-pound of any car on the market.

And nowhere else will you find valve-in-head power, all-coil springing, torque-tube steadiness and Buick's plussage in accessories at the figures that apply to the SPECIAL.

So if a little extra money is keeping you out of a Buick, take another look at those dollars.

They buy more car to begin with. More size and more substance.

They buy some six dozen new 1940 features, including many an "extra."

And you'll get most of them back in longer life and higher trade-in value—not to mention your fun and solid satisfaction!

MERCURY FALLS TO TWO-DEGREE MARK IN NIGHT

patrolman reported 200 cars delayed by the mishap.

River traffic along the Ohio is starting to move normally as ice floes are passing the Cincinnati harbor and warmer weather is being ushered in after the surprise blizzard that hit the entire Ohio Valley.

Weather bureaus throughout the state report warmer temperatures for the remainder of the week. Melting snows and ice are expected to raise the water levels of the state's rivers and streams.

$100 Fund Provided

Service department trucks were out on the streets Thursday as a temporary emergency fund of $100 was given the department pending an appropriation that will be voted at the meeting of the City Council next Wednesday. Clinkering and sanding operations are under way on the ice covered streets to cut the traffic hazard.

By International News Service

With the mercury again plunging to sub-zero temperatures and the state desperately trying to dig out of the heaviest snowfall in six years, the forecast for today of fair and warmer promised only slight respite to nearly-exhausted highway crews.

Literally scores of roads were blocked by the drifting snow, which reached a reported depth of 20 feet in spots in Belmont County. All secondary roads in the northeast and northern parts of the state were impassable, the highway patrol reported, and most of the main highways were nearly as bad, despite the fact that snow plows and clinkering and sanding crews worked all night.

The temperature reached a low of minus two at Middletown, in Hamilton County, the patrol reported.

In the hills in the southeastern part of the state, the snowfall measured ten inches. Only one road—Route 7, paralleling the river—was open in Monroe County. Mines and schools were closed in many communities as drifts six feet deep were commonly encountered.

Readings Vary

A zero reading was recorded at West Union, in Adams County. Columbus and Cambridge reported four degrees, Cincinnati eight, Cleveland 11, Dayton 12, Toledo and East Liverpool 13, Hayesville 14, and Akron 15.

The highway patrol reported that roads were in the worst condition since the patrol was established, although highways in the northwest part of the state were in fairly good condition.

ATTORNEYS IN FRANKLIN COUNTY FACING CHARGES

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15—Charges that at least six Columbus attorneys engaged in "ambulance chasing" activities in connection with industrial commission claim cases were made today by the Columbus Bar Association.

Officials of the bar association disclosed today that they had recommended institution of disbarment proceedings against six attorneys to Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

The court moved quickly by appointing a committee to investigate charges made against Waldo Sheldon Marshall, one of the six named in the recommendation. Names of others were withheld pending appointment of similar committees.

A subpoena was issued for Marshall to appear before the committee February 21 to answer charges that he was guilty of "misconduct or unprofessional conduct in office."

Members of the committee are John K. Kennedy, Winfield S. Pealer and Justin L. Sillman.

Action by the bar is the result of several investigations by the group and the Citizens' Tax League of Ohio. The League recommended to Governor Bricker that attorney's fees in commission cases be regulated.

STATE PLOWS ORDERED TO RUN THROUGH TOWNS

COLUMBUS, Feb. 15 — State Highway Director Robert S. Beighler today ordered highway snow plow crews to clear snow from state highways through cities of 10,000 or less population. Co-operation also will be given to crews of larger cities, Beighler said.

At 6 a. m. today, the highway director said the department's snow plows had been running for 24 consecutive hours. He also ordered all equipment being used on WPA projects transferred to aid in the fight against the snow drifts.

lieve, of whitewashing those involved.

Dies said he would recommend holding public hearings on the California and consumer organizations matters within a short time.

"I will propose that we investigate without fear or favor, and with no pussy-footing, expose the true situation," Dies said.

"I realize that it is no easy task. Hollywood has a lot of political influence.

Dies asserted that there is "plenty of work" for the committee. "The forged documents used recently in the house were only part of a general campaign to discredit the committee," said Dies. "False statements, misrepresentation and ridicule have been used repeatedly. It is not the faults and errors of our committee that anger its opponents. It is the home runs, hits and strikeouts that cause them to attack us."

Dies characterized proposals that the committee reform its methods of procedure as an attack on the investigation. He indicated that he would oppose vigorously procedural changes suggested by Rep. Voorhis (D) California, member of the committee.

Finnish President Kyosti Kallio in a talk with correspondents once again appealed for foreign aid. Saying he hoped the Finnish cause "might stir onlookers abroad to offer us material help," he added: "We are outnumbered 50 to one. If help does not arrive we cannot change our action."

"We must still carry on our fight, even if it must be alone. We are faced with the extinction of our nation, and we must fight to the last man."

President Kallio thanked the United States for its sympathy and financial aid and declared: "After all, we are defending ideals that are common to all civilized peoples."

The high command said that everywhere save on the Summa sector the Russian advances were halted and that thousands of Soviet dead and wrecked tanks were abandoned in front of the Finnish positions.

STORM FAILS TO KEEP F. D.'S MOTHER AT HOME

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 15—A little thing like yesterday's storm which paralyzed a large part of eastern United States isn't enough to keep Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the President's wife, from a speaking engagement.

Despite the snow, sleet and wind which kept all but the hardest motorists indoors, Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., the wife of the secretary of the treasury, and three other friends drove 55 miles last night from Syracuse to Ithaca where the first lady had a speaking engagement today.

When asked whether the four-hour ride was a little bit on the harrowing side, Mrs. Roosevelt said: "Oh, no, not at all."

England is collecting bones from homes to convert them into glue fertilizer. Zadok Dumbkopf thinks this would be a swell chance to get rid of that family skeleton.

GENTLEMAN-FARMERS

HERE'S something that may please real American farmers, by which term we mean farmers who live on their farms and farm for their living. The Internal Revenue Bureau, in giving instructions for the reporting of farm income, says:

"A person cultivating or operating a farm for recreation or pleasure, the result of which is a continual loss from year to year, is not regarded as a farmer."

The "gentleman farmers" who farm regardless of expense may now retire in confusion and quit telling real farmers how to farm. Among them may be numbered a certain business man who once gave a dinner at his country place and told his guests he was going to serve the "most costly liquor that money could buy." Then the servants haughtily passed around glasses of milk in crystal goblets, while the host explained that it cost him $10 a glass.

ACKNOWLEDGED FAME

A FEW more names will be added this year to the Hall of Fame at New York University. Selection of distinguished Americans for that roster seems complicated enough to insure, as the founder hoped, a genuine claim to fame on the part of successful candidates.

In the first place, those chosen must have been dead twenty-five years. Temporary popularity should have waned by that time, and wire-pulling friends should have lost interest.

Anyone who wishes may make nominations, using blanks provided by the authorities in charge. All names sent in by March 1 go to the Senate of the University. If they are seconded by members of the senate they are then placed on the ballots which go to the college of electors, a body of 114 prominent citizens chosen by the senate. They have from May 1 to October 1 to weigh the qualities of candidates. After their votes are cast, the winners have one more obstacle to surmount; that is senate disapproval, which must be expressed before November 1 to be effective.

Among the many now eligible are found the familiar names of Joseph Pulitzer, Wilbur Wright, Jacob Riis, George Westinghouse and Booker T. Washington.

It might be a pleasant test of memory to make, unaided, a list of the names already there. Also, a list of those who will probably be added during 1940.

Women's hats now seem to be reaching the symbolic stage—they're mere vestigial symbols of hats. Eventually a picture of a hat mounted on a hairpin might serve the purpose.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

ACCORDING to the Conference on the Cause and Cure of War, recently held in Washington, the first thing to do toward discovery of the CURE is to determine definitely, "What's the CAUSE?"

In other words, a correct diagnosis of any disease must precede a decision upon the right medicine for it.

This sounds reasonable. The trouble is, war's practical students say, that it's been impossible, down through the ages, to get the world's foremost diagnosticians to agree.

Director David Byrn-Jones of the Kellogg foundation of Carleton College, addressing the conference, prescribed "an organization more ambitious than the League of Nations, to strike at the root of conflicts, not merely to attempt mediation of disputes which already are beyond control."

It seems logical—if it will work. For instance, I read an advertisement a few days ago which said "Laxatives are a bad thing. Don't become constipated in the first place. Eat your breakfast feed regularly and you WON'T be. Don't let constipa-

WELLES TO HEAD OFF PUSH

WASHINGTON—Recent Cabinet meetings have thrown some light on why Under Secretary of State Welles was dispatched so suddenly to explore peace prospects in Europe.

At these Cabinet meetings, the President has expressed two views regarding peace. He feels that heavy fighting may come to the Western Front by spring, for by that time Hitler may be obliged to attack the Maginot Line. So Roosevelt hopes that peace overtures may be started in time to head off this major war move.

Second, the President feels that should this olive branch fail, still it might pave the way for another peace move in autumn or late summer. He bases this on the belief that Hitler's drive on the Western Front is sure to fail, and that afterward the German Government will be in greater need of peace.

Secretary Hull also has expressed important views in recent Cabinet meetings, agreeing with the President regarding point one, but not point two.

Mr. Hull fully concurs that there may be a chance for peace now, before the spring drive gets under way. But he does not share the President's optimism that once the drive is started, it will be possible to revive peace efforts in the autumn.

Hull fears that cities will be bombed, civilian populations will become enraged, bitterness will eat deep into the hearts of both sides. He fears the war may become like the Spanish civil war, where neither side could find a foothold for peace. For that reason he believes Europe's one real hope for peace is to act now.

At any rate, the President and his Secretary of State emphatically agreed that the time to send Sumner Welles to Europe was immediately.

TROOPS TO FINLAND

Latest confidential dispatches tell of 60,000 Allied troops preparing to bolster the Finns and the Swedes. They consist of one Canadian division, one Polish and one French.

Also the 300 British planes reported by The Merry-Go-Round last week as secretly sent to Finland, now have increased to 400. Most of them are Hurricanes, an A-1 type of plane. The pilots are largely Italian.

Continued resistance on the Scandinavian front fits in with Roosevelt's peace moves because it keeps attention focused away from the Western Front where the fighting will be tough—when it starts.

NAVAL PORTUGUESE

Secretary of the Navy Edison, after being royally entertained at the Brazilian Embassy, invited a Brazilian party to be his guests at the Navy Relief Ball. They accepted, came to the ball, and sat in the Secretary's box.

Just as the affair was getting started, one of Edison's aides rushed up to Commander Carl F. Holden, and said, "Look here, Holden, you'll have to lend a hand. The Secretary has got a party of Brazilians in his box, and he needs somebody to speak Portuguese."

Holden, who formerly served on the U. S. Naval Mission to Brazil, joined the

Why We SWING Down the Street

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

DO WE swing our arms in walking from habit or because it fulfils some function?

When man assumed the erect position, his arms were liberated from their traditional function of aiding in the support and propulsion of the body. In spite of this, they instinctively move in the act of walking.

This action is not that of a pendulum; the movements are performed by muscular action. They perform functions, not only maintaining and helping equilibrium, but diminishing the clinical difficulties of walking by decreasing the rotation of the body as a whole about the vertical axis during the interval in which only one foot is on the ground. The swinging of the arms is, according to Elftman, of Columbia University, an integral part of the dynamics of walking. Therefore, the fellow who carries a cane and swings it is really helping himself move.

val in which only one foot is on the ground. The swinging of the arms is, according to Elftman, of Columbia University, an integral part of the dynamics of walking. Therefore, the fellow who carries a cane and swings it is really helping himself move.

Botulism Still Shows Itself

Has the food poisoning known as "botulism" been completely controlled in the United States?

No. An epidemic was reported from Los Angeles in December, 1939. Five outbreaks of botulism have occurred in the region of Los Angeles in the last two years. There is, however, little danger any more from foods that are manufactured and canned by commercial firms because proper precautions are taken. One of the Los Angeles cases was due to eating home-canned figs; others from home-canned string-beans.

Botulism is a poisoning caused by the toxin of a germ which grows in a medium from which air has been excluded (in other words, an anaerobic organism). One of the worst epidemics was due to the ingestion of canned olives. Canned stringbeans, however, are the most frequent offender, being responsible for one-third of all the outbreaks.

The absorption of the toxin of botulism produces a severe prostration of the nervous system, with difficulty in swallowing and paralysis of many muscles. Another serious epidemic of food poisoning has recently been reported in which food was infected with a salmonella organism. This is about the commonest form of food poisoning. In the epidemic mentioned, the food served at a wedding

PARADISE IS HERE

Alma Sioux Scarberry
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

His lean face was keenly intellectual, Romany decided.

CHAPTER THIRTY
ONCE ROMANY made up her mind to go to Baxter Tree's apartment, she decided she might as well go immediately.

In the bedroom she replenished her makeup and combed her jet-black hair. Cholly was lying on the bed. She looked up with tear-stained eyes.

"Going out, Romy?"
"Yes. For a little while."
"You're not—angry with me for not wanting to talk?"
"Mercy, no!" Romany assured her swiftly. "I've just decided to compromise myself a bit."
"To what?"
"I'm going to walk down and see Bax."

Cholly raised on her elbow, surprised.
"Well, whatever put that notion into your head?"
Romany shrugged.
"Oh, I don't know. He's been acting so strangely. I don't want him to think that just because I've had a lot of luck and he hasn't we can't be the same friends. He won't call me up. So I'm going to barge in on him. He can't any more than throw me out."

"He won't," Cholly smiled. "But he'll be very much surprised. And so am I for that matter. He'd probably love to see you. I guess he thinks you're in love with Brent and that you're out with him most of the time."

"That's what I imagine he thinks," Romany put on Aunt Cissie's short squirrel jacket and matching toque. "And he's so darned proud."

At the door of the apartment where Baxter lived Romany hesitated. Then she rang the bell resolutely. The buzzer sounded immediately and she walked up four flights before she heard Bax's "hello."

The writer stepped back in astonishment when he saw Romany. "It's only me," Romany called gaily. "I was walking by and I just decided to drop in and see if you were still alive."

She saw Bax's face color with confusion.
"Well, come in," he urged. "This is quite a little surprise."
Romany saw quickly that it was a one-room apartment with a pullman kitchen. On a gas burner sat two cooking pots, and the odor of coffee filled the small place. Bax pushed a chair toward Romany.

"Be seated, Miss Haile," he managed to summon an almost natural grin. "And may I have the fur?"
She slid out of the squirrel jacket. The cold November air had brought out the pink in her olive cheeks and her green eyes sparkled with good health and well being.

"You're looking swell!" Bax opened a small closet and placed the wrap on a hanger. Then he came back and sat down opposite his visitor. "Work seems to be agreeing with you."

The coffee boiled over and Bax leaped to take it from the stove.
"I can offer you a bean and a cup of coffee," he said then uncertainly. "I thought I wouldn't go out this evening for dinner. I'm working on a half-hour script."

Romany forced gaiety into her voice.
"I'll have a cup of coffee with you. But I've had my dinner."
It wasn't true. She had forgotten to eat. But she wouldn't take what might be the last of Bax's food.
"Come to think of it, I guess I'll just have coffee, too," Bax set the beans back, turning out the gas. "I don't seem to be hungry. I ate lunch late."

Romany suspected that there might be no bread or butter and that Bax didn't want her to know. She swallowed painfully. If he were only the sort she could offer to loan money to! But if he were, like Terry—she wouldn't be there.

Bax put two paper napkins on the little table in the corner and

Presby-Weds Hear Talk On 'Mothers' Pensions'

Annual Election Scheduled For March

Thirty-six members and guests gathered in the social room of the Presbyterian Church Wednesday and heard Miss Virginia Smith in a splendid talk on "Mothers' Pensions."

Miss Smith in her work in the Pickaway County Division of Aid for Dependent Children is in close contact with the mothers of the county who receive this assistance and during her discussion explained the many details investigated before the awarding of the pensions.

The fact she stressed was that the children under this plan have a chance of living in a healthy, happy home atmosphere. The mothers are not compelled to leave their homes, and leave the children under proper care, while they are at work. After she closed her formal talk, Miss Smith answered many questions asked by the audience.

The cooperative dinner was served at 6:30 p. m., the guests being seated at a long table with appropriate Valentine decorations in red and white.

CURIOSITY DANGEROUS

Detective Byrne picked up a German Luger automatic pistol which discharged, sending both men to the hospital. Byrne with a grazed hand and Beggs with a serious wound in the chest.

Notice

TO THE MEMBERS OF PICKAWAY CO. POMONA GRANGE

It is proper and fitting that we pause to pay tribute and respect to the memory of one, whom the hand of Divine Providence has removed from our midst since our last meeting on Saturday morning, February 3, 1940. Florence Teegarden, a member of the Pomona Grange, and who was honored as County Deputy for several years, slipped quietly into the Great Beyond. The news of her passing came as a shock to all her many friends and acquaintances. It is not the purpose of this memorial to eulogize the deceased, but those of us, who knew Miss Teegarden, bear testimony of her loyalty, helpfulness and willingness to serve in any way possible where service was needed and as her health would permit. She was possessed of a sense of conscientiousness to duty, a great energy, of earnestness and of diligence. She will be missed in her community, and that sense of loss emphasizes our realization of the profundity of that loss to her faithful friend, Miss Grace Alspaugh, who resides in the home. We can only say that "Man prepares" "God disposes." Life is of today full oried. Tomorrow the immortal soul passes on to its master.

Therefore be it resolved that in the death of our sister, Florence Teegarden, our Pomona Grange has lost one of its faithful members, the members a loyal friend, and the community a good citizen. Also be it resolved that a copy of this paper be presented Miss Grace Alspaugh, one to be published in our local paper, and one to be written in the minutes of the organization.

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. S. E. Boers
Howard E. Noecker
Comm.

TAMPA TO GET SPRING CONTEST TO AID FINNS

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 15—Tampa today had been selected as site for the all-star baseball game between National and American teams for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund, and March 17 was selected as date for the contest, which is expected to be a duplicate of the annual mid-season all-star classic of the two leagues.

Tampa was chosen because of the greater seating capacity of its ball park, which normally will seat approximately 9,000 persons. Officials, however, stated that by placing temporary seats along foul lines, the seating capacity can be raised to possibly 20,000.

Miami and St. Petersburg had sought the game.
Commissioner K. M. Landis is expected to be on hand for the contest, and former President Herbert Hoover, chairman of the relief committee, may toss the first ball in the game.

Hungarian Army Officer Speaks At Institute Of Understanding

DANUBE RIVER VITAL

Dr. Doman Says Germany May Have To Invade Neutral Countries

Predicting that a United States of Central Europe which ultimately must become a United States of Europe as the only solution to the conflict in Europe and the sole method to bring about any semblance of permanent peace to that wartorn continent. Dr. Nicholas R. Doman, author and lecturer of international affairs and officer in the Hungarian army, speaking on "Central Europe—The Battlefield of Imperialism" closed the series of Rotary Club lectures of the Institute For International Understanding Wednesday night.

What has commonly been called the "powder keg" of Europe, the Balkans, is strangely quiet, but Dr. Doman said that spring shall see that keg in the high flames of explosion and engulfed in the rapidly spreading conflict.

"Central Europe is neutral and wants to stay neutral as do all the small European nations, but those engaged in the game of power politics find it more convenient to fight on the soil of neutrals than to hurl men against powerfully fortified lines," Dr. Doman remarked. "One by one every small country will become entangled."

"Age of Confusion" Calling the present years an age of confusion, he said that one cannot hope to make accurate predictions and at best can offer only a series of speculations.

That the Danube River has been a focal point of the history of Central Europe is a fact that cannot be debated, Dr. Doman said. It has always figured in the events and the motivating causes that have made the story of that section of Europe what it is.

"The Danube is the source of German imports at present. All its central European trade is carried over that route. Now that it is frozen Germany faces a food shortage and if it continues in that stage, the Reich will be forced to invade the small nations to augment its food supply," he continued.

The present difficulty in that area, as Dr. Doman sees it, stems from the post war division of the Austro-Hungarian empire. That empire, he maintained, was a perfect economic unit and helped unite the many races that existed under it. Application of the Wilson principle of Self-Determination was impossible because of the complexity of the peoples involved. The small European states which were supposedly created along those lines were in reality created out of the victors desire to build economic units that would suit themselves.

Move a Bad Blunder "Creation of the small states was a bad blunder. If the principle of self-determination were truly applied we would have a dozen nations existing within every village along with the subsequent tariff walls.

"The minority question will never be settled in Europe. If one minority of today gains power tomorrow and becomes top-dog, the under-dog will fight to regain its

Nearly 100 Present For Brotherhood's Meeting

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

Nearly a hundred local men enjoyed the Lutheran Brotherhood annual banquet in the Ashville Lutheran church parlors Wednesday evening. The bill of fare was fried chicken with all the trimmings which the ladies of the congregation know so well how to prepare. Following the dinner Prof. Howard Cotterman of Capital University entertained the crowd with one of his humorous but highly instructive lectures. The toastmaster, C. A. Higley, then called on several of the men for impromptu talks most of which were very good. More of these meetings of local men might prove of benefit to the community.

During the last few weeks of cold weather our Ashville Game Conservation Club composed of about 25 boy members, has been feeding birds and wild animals. Since the snow has covered the ground, the birds and other wild game can get nothing to eat. The club has placed several feeding stations in the community. A farmer former position. That will be an endless struggle because the minorities will always be the marionettes dangling on the strings manipulated by those large nations playing power politics," he asserted.

Dr. Doman asked his audience to survey with him the mistakes made by the allied nations and in particular pointed to the blunder of the Austro-German Anschluss.

"The League of Nations refused to allow a tariff union between democratic Germany and democratic Austria, but tacitly accepted such a union under Hitler. They could not solve that problem just as the lack of a solution to the minority problem made the German conquest of Poland and Czechoslovakia a simple matter," he illustrated.

It seems tradition among the central European states, he said, that neighbors must be enemies and it is only a neighbor's neighbor that is a friend since bordering states all have claims against each other.

None May Dominate

Unity among these states may be achieved under the program of a democratic monarchy more so than under a dictatorial democracy. If a federation of the states exists there must never be a dominant nation. A president such as the United States has would make the other nations feel as though they were the victims of discrimination unless the president came from within its borders. The period between the election of presidents would be a period of four years of perpetual revolution.

The Federation must have a unifying factor whether it be a monarch or a supreme council, the Doctor continued. Once such a federation is established it will go well, but the greatest difficulty to be overcome is the early formation which will be fought by nationalistic groups.

Dr. Doman warned that its establishment will be hard fought by Germany who wishes to be supreme in Central Europe and play the dominating role. If the Allies defeat Germany then it is their duty to establish such a federation, he asserted, but he would not guarantee or predict such a victory.

"We can only wait and see what the outcome of the present war will be before anything can be said or done in unifying the nations of Central Europe. But whatever the outcome may be Central Europe will always have living on its soil despite conquest or victory, subjugation or supremacy, the minorities that have shaped the history of Central Europe," Dr. Doman concluded.

told us the other day that some of the wild game was eating corn on the outside of his field shocks, other feed not being available.

Twin calves were born recently on the farm of Mack White, Lockbourne. The mother is a full blood Jersey and the sire a Black Angus. Both calves remain with the mother without additional feed and are doing nicely. These twins, both heifers, one red, the other black. The average person may not know that twin calves are a rare quantity. This and the bird item were contributed by local high school boys—Warren White and Robert Commins.

William Wean with his team of horses and snow plow cleared away the snow from the village sidewalks at an early hour Wednesday.

The ground covered with snow closing up all feed from that source the Cooper bird sanctuary is supplying to the feathered ones an ample supply of feed to all comers.

ALL PROPERTIES OF MUHLENBERG SCHOOL RETURN

John Weidinger, principal of the Muhlenberg Township school, said Thursday that physical education equipment transferred to the Monroe Township building when school jurisdiction was changed by the county board has been returned to Darbyville and has been put into use.

Weidinger said that all manual training equipment, including tables, tools and electrical devices, eight typewriters, a mimeograph, sewing machines and chairs had been returned.

The principal reported that everything was operating smoothly at the Muhlenberg school which has been the center of a heated controversy concerning jurisdiction. A recent court order returned grade school operation to the Muhlenberg board from Monroe. A supreme court appeal brought by the county board is pending.

CONTEMPT CHARGE PUTS COLUMBUSITE IN COURT

Common Pleas Judge Meeker Terwilliger handed down a stern reprimand Wednesday to John Bowen, Columbus, who was brought into court by his former wife, Edwina Schlegel Bowen, Ashville, on a charge of contempt of court.

Mrs. Bowen obtained a divorce in August, 1939, at which time her husband was ordered to pay for the support of their one child. Bowen has refused to make payment since November, 1939 and was cited on the contempt charge.

He was warned by the Judge that any further contempt charge would result in a grand jury indictment and he would have to face criminal charges of non-support of a child. Bowen promised the court that its order to pay $5 per week would be obeyed.

ASSOCIATED GAS SPORTS Several "beautiful friendships" have been broken over the future of Associated Gas and Electric Company, whose 50 different companies supply power and light to almost one quarter of the entire United States.

The company faces bankruptcy, and the Federal Government, with a big unpaid tax bill, is the largest creditor. Because of this, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Attorney General Jackson went into court last week to ask that the Securities and Exchange Commission be made trustee.

They did not say so, but one reason behind their request was the report that Homer Cummings, former Attorney General, was in line for the trusteeship.

Cummings has represented the sisters of Howard Hopson, head of Associated Gas and Electric, who are large stockholders. Though he was once a New Dealer and the boss of Bob Jackson, Jackson opposed the idea of Cummings' appointment.

Another man in line for the vital post of A. G. & E. trustee last week was John Hanes, former Under Secretary of the Treasury, and right hand of Henry Morgenthau. When Hanes resigned last month, gushing letters were exchanged with Morgenthau professing their firm friendship.

However, Morgenthau last week was found working against the appointment of his firm friend and ex-assistant to this lush trusteeship, which some people believe will net $1,000,000 for the man appointed.

Meanwhile the SEC declined appointment of itself as trustee. Behind the scenes it promoted Johnny Hanes for the job. Inside the SEC, the idea has been broached of dividing up A. G. & E. into eight different systems, perhaps eight small TVA's.

Note — Although technically bankrupt, Associated Gas and Electric actually owns some of the soundest subsidiary companies in the country, and Wendell Willkie of Commonwealth and Southern is reported licking his chops in anticipation of gobbling some of them up.

Police Chief W. F. McCrady has received a letter from H. W. Brannock and L. J. Harris, chief of detectives and chief of police, respectively, in Greensboro, N. The suspects have already been transferred to Chillicothe to face grand larceny charges.

The communication to the chief recited that coats worth $350, $295 and $395 were stolen by three Negro women.

DR. BLACKBURN'S FIGURES SHOW GAIN IN BIRTHS

Pickaway County births in 1939 showed an increase and followed the trend that has prevailed in the state since 1909 when more baby boys were recorded than girls. Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, filed his annual report Thursday concerning births, declaring that three more children were born in 1939 than in 1938, the figures being 297 and 294, respectively.

Last year there were 122 boys born to every 100 girls while the 1938 figures were 112 boys to every 100 girls. The state rate for the last 31 years has been 106 to 100.

The birth rates of the City of Circleville, however, was higher than the county standing at 20 per 1,000 population in 1939; the county birth rate for the year was 14.9.

An increased birth rate and a decreased death rate indicates an increasing population in the county. The months of May and August led with 30 births each and March and December trailed with 18 and 17.
